Wind-lock Introducing Eco-Friendly Trowels

Leesport, PA – As an addition to Wind-lock's Comfort Soft™ trowel line, the company is trialing leather and cork handles developed with the same German engineering.

“These handles made from natural materials have been successfully introduced into the European market,” explains Carter Benjamin, Executive Vice President for Wind-lock. “They seem to be popular both in comfort and in the fact that they are manufactured from renewable resources.”

Both the leather and the cork handles are open pored, shock absorbing and extremely comfortable in the hand. They also provide 100% blister-free work.

Wind-lock plans to begin selling these trowels in the fall of 2011.
